

Phishing simulation

Prior to clicking the link, how much did you trust the sender's message?

7 responses

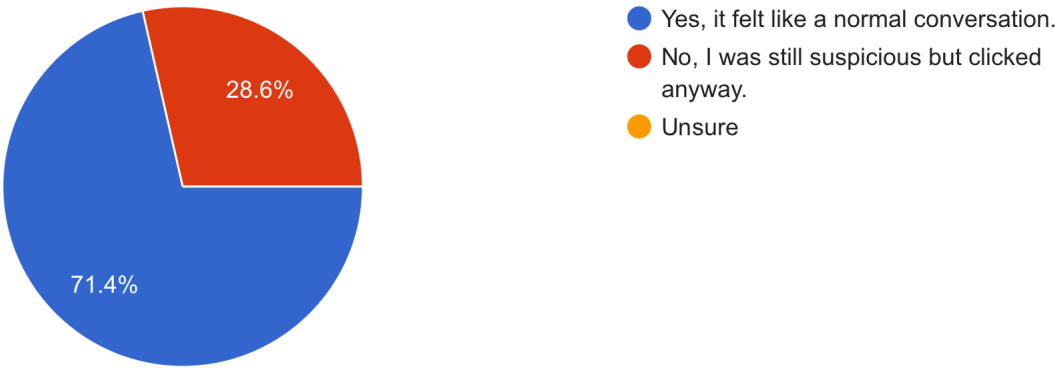

What was the primary reason you decided to click the link?

7 responses

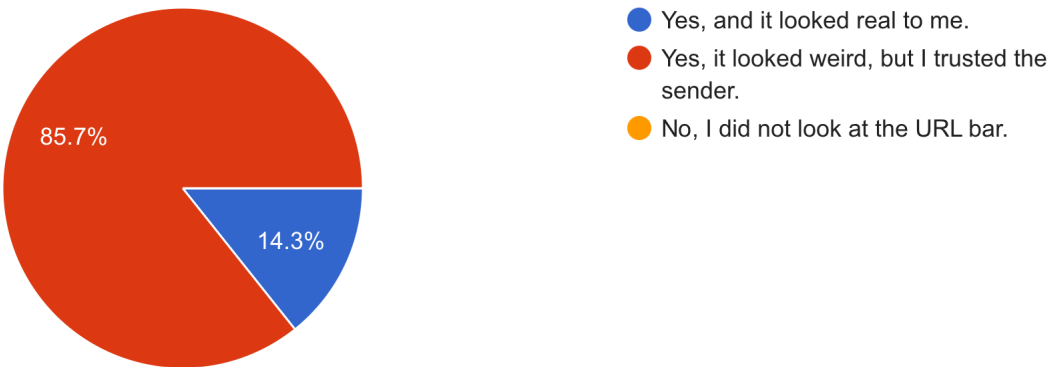

Did the specific phrasing "please review this for me" make you lower your guard?

7 responses

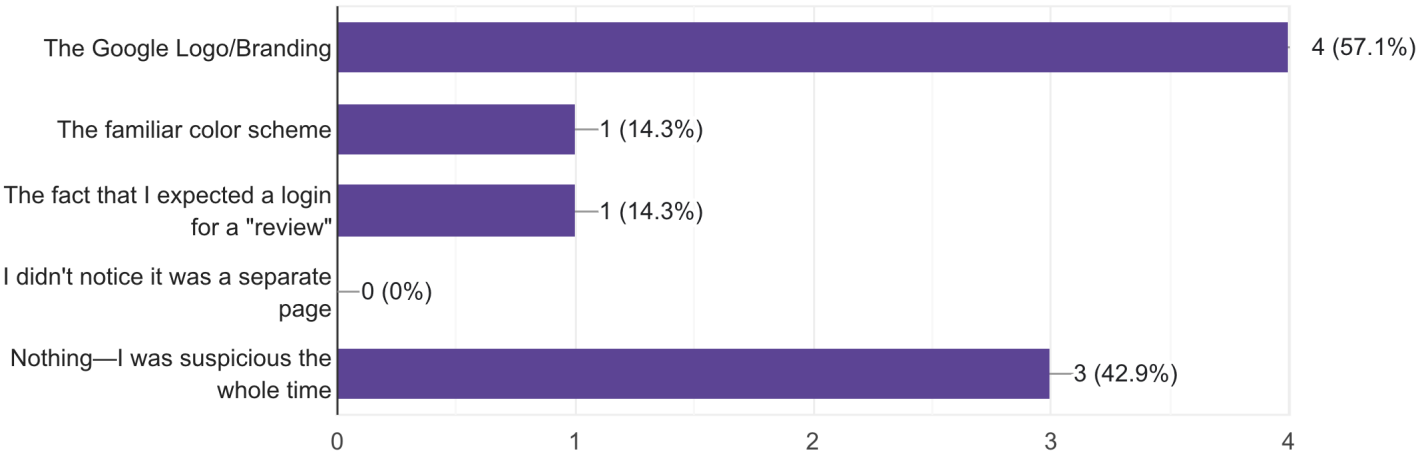

Did you consciously check the URL (web address) before entering your info?

7 responses

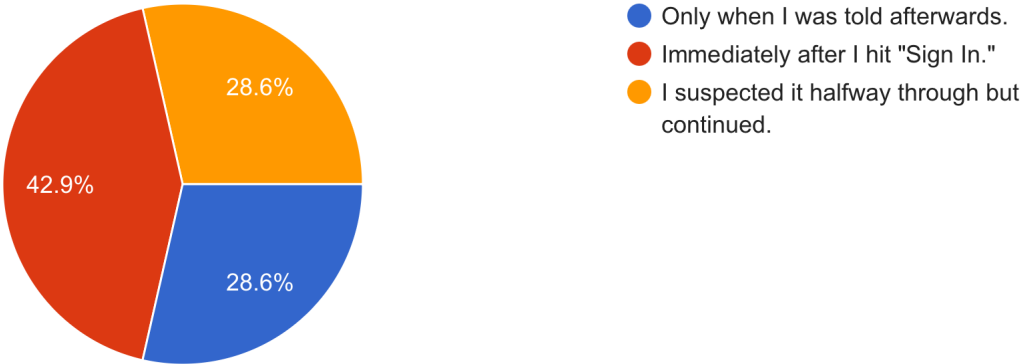

Once the fake login page loaded, what convinced you it was safe?

7 responses

At what point did you realize this might be a simulation or a scam?

7 responses

Has this simulation made you more likely to double-check links in the future?

7 responses

